CHC30221

Certificate III in School Based Education Support

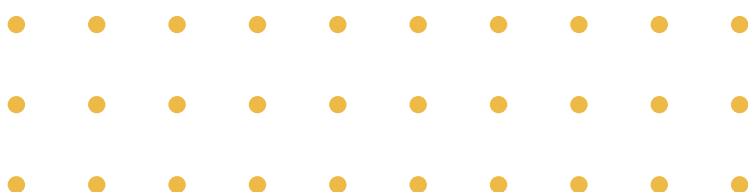

An Introductory Course Designed Mainly for Younger Students and Those Learning English.

The CHC30221 Certificate III in School Based Education Support serves as an entry-level qualification for those interested in initiating a career in educational support. This course focuses on the essentials of working in a mainstream classroom under direct teacher supervision. It provides foundational skills but does not typically involve specialised support for children with additional needs. Given the prevailing job market, adult learners interested in more expansive roles should consider the CHC40221 Certificate IV in School Based Education Support, as it is a requirement for over 90% of educational support positions.

The CHC30221 Certificate III in School Based Education Support covers key topics such as school policies, safety protocols, and small group management. It introduces foundational teaching techniques like the 3Ps (pause, prompt, praise). Assessments range from short-answer questions to practical, work-based tasks. A mandatory 100-hour work placement in a local school is part of the curriculum, offering hands-on experience and an entry pathway into paid employment. The course is designed for completion within 6-months; however an 18-month enrolment period accommodates various learning paces.

CHC40221

Certificate IV in School Based Education Support

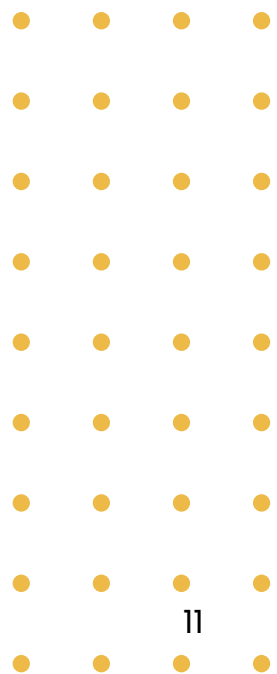

Now required for almost all education support roles in Australian schools.

The CHC40221 Certificate IV in School Based Education Support has become the industry standard for educational support roles, and ITAC is Australia's leading provider of this essential qualification. This advanced course goes beyond basic classroom assistance, focusing on the specialised support required for children with additional needs such as autism and ADHD. While this Certificate IV qualification meets the minimum requirements for most educational support positions, those aiming for a competitive edge in high-demand roles should consider the Teacher Aide Combo. This comprehensive program includes both Certificate III and IV, providing a distinct advantage in the job market by showcasing a broad and deep skill set.

The CHC40221 Certificate IV in School Based Education Support extensively covers classroom management and specialised support strategies for students with various disabilities and disorders. The curriculum integrates research-based behavioural and instructional techniques, assessed through a combination of short-answer questions and practical, work-based tasks – eliminating the need for essays or exams. A requisite 100-hour work placement in a local educational setting is included, furnishing valuable hands-on experience and a potential route to paid employment. Although the course is designed for completion within 26 weeks, an extended 18-month enrolment period is available to accommodate learners at different paces.

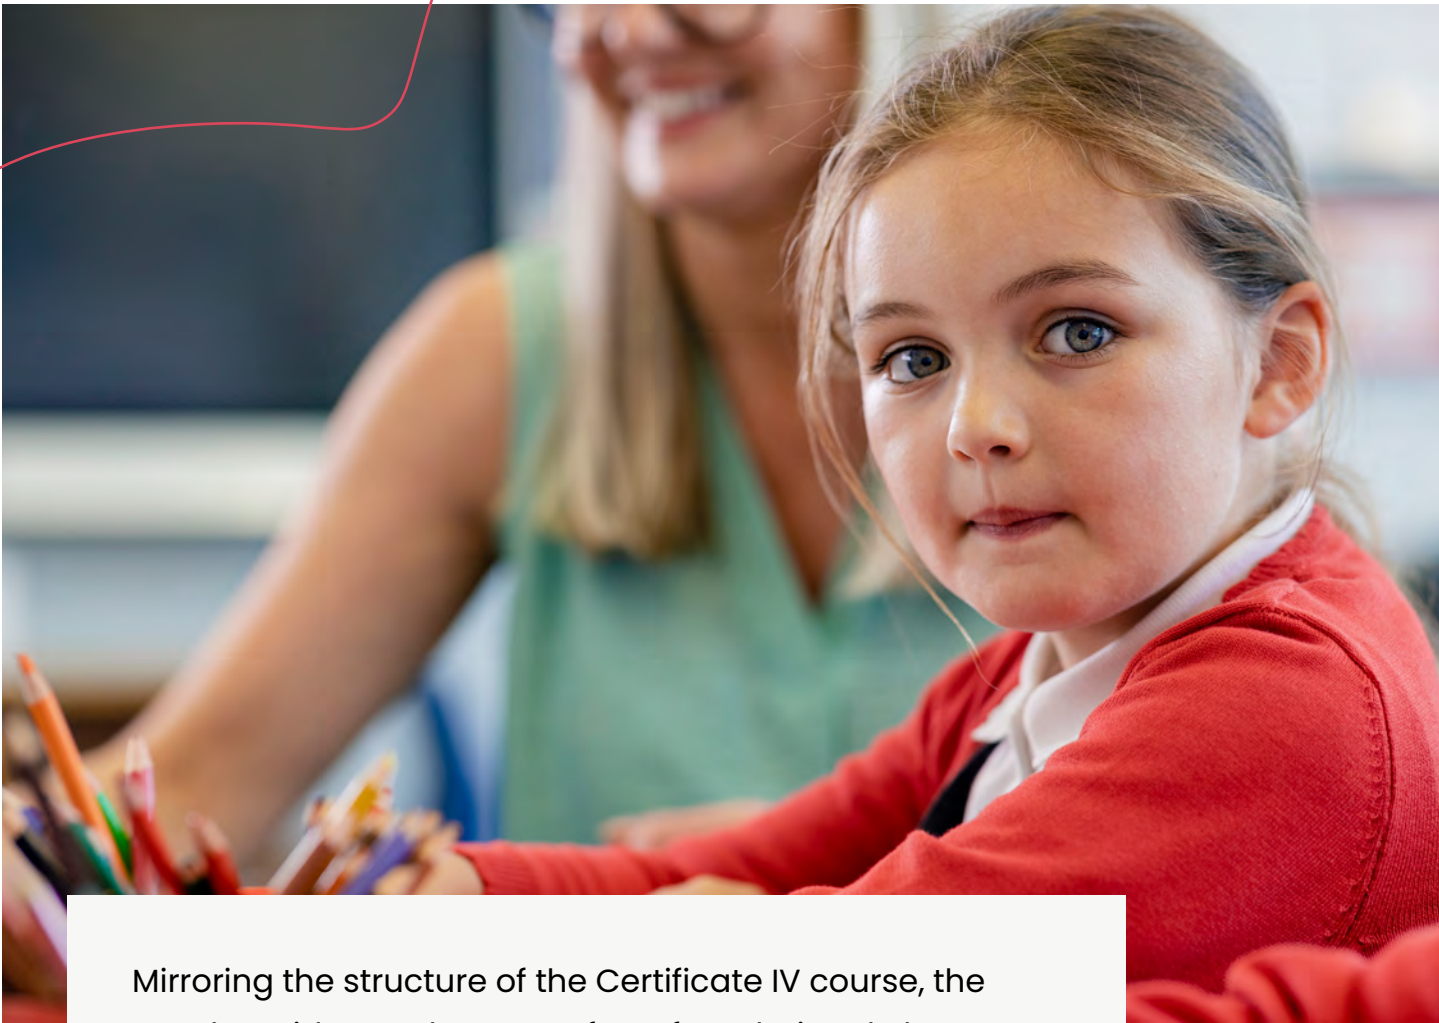

The Popular Teacher Aide Combo

Double your resume and boost your job prospects in about the same amount of time it takes to complete a single course.

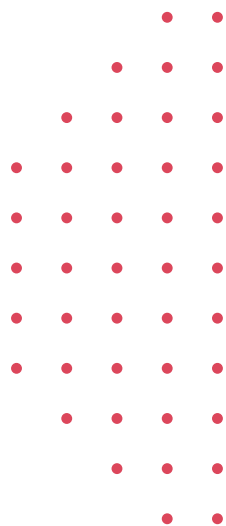

The Teacher Aide Combo is a comprehensive pathway for those looking to be fully equipped for any role in educational support. Including both the CHC30221 Certificate III and CHC40221 Certificate IV in School Based Education Support, this pathway not only sets you apart in the competitive job market but also offers a uniquely broad and deep skill set. Rather than tackling 25+ repetitive units, ITAC's innovative Teacher Aide Combo is streamlined around four key modules. Completing this all-inclusive pathway allows learners to achieve all essential competencies in a time frame only slightly longer than it normally takes to complete a single course.

Mirroring the structure of the Certificate IV course, the Teacher Aide Combo spans from foundational elements like school policies and safety protocols to complex classroom management and specialised support techniques. Assessments include both short-answer questions and a series of practical, work-based tasks. A mandatory 100-hour work placement is integrated into the course, giving you hands-on experience and potentially leading to paid employment. Though designed for a 26-week completion, an 18-month enrolment period is available for added flexibility.

Choosing the Teacher Aide Combo not only broadens your skill set but also significantly enhances your employability, providing a one-stop qualification route that sets a new standard in the field of education support.
